

Bildnachweis: Bibliothèque Nationale de France, Tristan de Léonois, MS fr97 f20

Modern myths about medieval women: A workshop with Sara McDougall

Sara McDougall, medieval historian with a focus on gender and justice, will give a workshop that focuses on the role that sex and gender played in medieval justice and law, and the stereotypes of medieval misogyny that still prevail today. We shall analyse sources from the late medieval period and discuss the criminalisation of women in history and today. The workshop will be held in English.

Date & Location:

Monday, 13th of April, 2.15 pm – 6 pm, DG Seminarraum 2

Organisation & Contact:

Valerie Muhmenthaler (valerie.muhmenthaler@unibas.ch)

Teresa Steffenino (teresa.steffenino@unibas.ch)

Maria Tranter (m.tranter@unibas.ch)

Registration

Via MONA (Course directory)

(Participatcion is credited with 1 ECTS)